Academic Dashboard

The Deanship of Graduate Studies has launched an online academic services system for graduate students. The aim of the newly introduced online services is to provide easily accessible and fully paperless academic transactions for graduate students that will enhance quality-of-service and students' data accuracy. For every module, a workflow instance is initiated that take the approval of all the approver electronically and the student gets status/notification emails about either the approval or the rejection of the request.

The Academic Dashboard currently provides five services, namely:

1. Graduate Student Academic Summary.
2. Degree Plan.
3. Thesis/Dissertation Advisor Selection.
4. Thesis/Dissertation Proposal Submission.
5. Thesis/Dissertation Defense Request Submission.

2. Online Degree Plan

Degree Plan is a list of courses that the student selects to be counted towards his degree in agreement with the approved coursework plan of the corresponding program of study. The Degree Plan enables a student to choose the courses only from the pool of courses available to his particular degree program and is useful to avoid any hassles at the time of his graduation.

This module provides two services i.e. submission of degree plan and view/print approved degree plan, along with displaying the current status of degree plan (approved/in processing etc.). The submission of degree plan is fairly easy. A student, once opts to submit the degree plan, is provided with the instructions/regulations about the degree plan submission and then is taken to the courses selection page where he is required to choose the required courses using the dropdown lists. For MS and PhD students, the Seminar and Thesis/Dissertation courses are pre-selected. Deficiency courses, if any, are listed automatically.

3. Thesis Advisor Selection

This module lets a student select his Thesis/Dissertation Advisor officially. A student, once starts the process of Thesis Advisor Selection, is provided with the instructions/regulations about the thesis advisor selection and then is taken to the request submission page. Its simple user interface takes the Faculty ID of the selected thesis advisor (in 00XXXXXXXX format) as input from the student and, if found in the database, displays the name of the faculty member and asks for the department and the academic rank of the faculty member. If the Faculty ID is not found in the system, the student is advised to contact the Deanship of Graduate Studies via gs-academics@kfupm.edu.sa.

4. Thesis/Dissertation Proposal Submission

All MS and PhD students are required to write thesis/dissertation and for that they must submit thesis/dissertation proposals. This module is designed to serve that purpose. Advisor Selection is the pre-requisite for this module. A student, once opts to submit the Thesis/Dissertation Proposal, is provided with the instructions/regulations about the Thesis/Dissertation Proposal submission and then is taken to the request submission page. Here, the details of the thesis advisor will be shown as it has been pre-entered since it must have been selected using the thesis advisor selection module. In addition, a student is required to submit the details of the committee members, thesis/dissertation title and upload the thesis/dissertation proposal in PDF format. Similar to the Thesis Advisor Selection module, if an ID of the faculty member (not the external member) is not found, the student is advised to contact the Deanship of Graduate Studies via gs-academics@kfupm.edu.sa.

5. Submit Thesis/Dissertation Defense Request

A public oral defense of the thesis/dissertation is required for all candidates for MS and PhD degrees. A student, once opts to submit the Thesis/Dissertation Defense request, is provided with the instructions/regulations about the Thesis/Dissertation Defense and then is taken to the request submission page. Here, if all the conditions for thesis/dissertation defense are satisfied, a student is required to provide the proposed date and time of defense, a pre-booked (through Registrar Office) defense location, the list of published/accepted ISI Journal Papers from his Thesis/Dissertation work and the final thesis/dissertation draft along with its similarity report.

If any of the stated thesis/dissertation defense conditions are not satisfied, they are stated in RED and the student is asked to fulfil them prior to submitting the request.
